ECE® Aid Newsletter

A charitable initiative developed to provide free evaluation reports for vulnerable and displaced populations.

Dear Friends,

Happy November! The end of the year is quickly approaching, and as holidays of all sorts abound, schedules can become quite hectic. We're working on a lot of positive changes for ECE® Aid in 2023, so I'll keep this newsletter brief.

What happened to the donate button?

If you've been on the ECE® Aid website recently, you may have noticed that the donate button has disappeared. This is for a very good reason!

Through data, research, and a bit of number crunching, our incredible finance team has determined that starting in 2023, ECE can fully fund ECE® Aid fee waivers from our own revenue.

What happened to the donate button?

Quarterly newsletter

What this means for you is that we no longer need to ask for donations to sustain the ECE® Aid initiative. I will speak more to how we arrived at this decision in next month's newsletter, but I wanted to make sure you were the first to know about this major change in how ECE® Aid will operate moving forward.

In addition, I just want to share my endless thanks with you. Your support has built the foundation for all that ECE® Aid has accomplished thus far. The continued success and future of ECE® Aid is all thanks to you and our donors over the past six and a half years.

You've graduated from past donor to a supporter and current subscriber!

Quarterly Newsletter

Another change starting in 2023 will be moving from a monthly to a quarterly newsletter. Many of us receive a number of newsletters in our inboxes. A quarterly newsletter will allow for a focus on quality as well as respect for our supporters' valuable time.

ECE® Aid stories, participant spotlights, and all of the wonderful information you've come to enjoy about the initiative's progress and success will continue to be highlights in the newsletter.

I'm excited for these changes and will continue to provide news and information about ECE® Aid to you throughout 2023 and beyond.

With gratitude,
